Bovill Defines "Walking in Purpose"

The Senior Class President Carrie Bovill enlightened the campus community on Thursday morning as she brought life to the theme, "Walking in Purpose: Fulfilling Your Dream," at the Senior Class Assembly.

Bovill began by defining "Walking in Purpose" as walking by faith. Speaking from scripture she said, "Faith is the assurance of things hoped for; the evidence of things not seen." Bovill said faith should empower everyone to believe that they can achieve their dreams.

Demonstrating great insight, Bovill shared that it is necessary to be self-aware in order to walk with a purpose—know your history, your destination and your goal. To this she added and emphasized the necessity of having perseverance while working toward a dream.

Speaking from sincerity, she clarified that her message was for the entire campus community, not just the senior class. Bovill shared her personal testimony of overcoming major obstacles and the realization that dreams are only fulfilled when fears are overcome.

She advised students to "PUSH!" forward to reach for their dreams and she challenged the Senior Class of 2014 to give back to Morris College after reaching "prosperity."

In closing remarks, President Richardson commended Bovill. "It was an excellent speech, well-prepared, well-thought-about and well-delivered. It was good advice for anyone." He added, "Everyone should have a purpose and everyone should have a dream. Then they should commit to fulfilling that dream." He reminded students of the upcoming mid-term exams and admonished them to prepare themselves for success in that endeavor.

Dr. Richardson recognized the senior class and thanked their advisor, Ms. Dorothy Cheagle, director of Planning and Governmental Relations, and the other advisors for doing an excellent job with the program.

Morris College named on "Most Affordable College" list and named a "Safe School"
