Stepping into Your Future

Dr. Charles B. Jackson, Sr. at the opening of Religious Emphasis Week 2012

Dr. Charles B. Jackson, Sr., senior pastor of Brookland Baptist Church in West Columbia, S.C., preached a series of messages for Religious Emphasis Week that uplifted the spirit and mindset of the campus community. Dr. Jackson titled the messages "Stepping into Your Future." He based the series on Philippians 3:13 – 14.

On Tuesday morning, Dr. Jackson opened with, "Stepping into Your Future, Part I," enlightening the campus community that the economic, political and social unrest we are witnessing are described in the Bible as what is to come in the last days. However, Christians need not be worried Dr. Jackson said, because, "God is up to something. He is going to change things around for his people." Quoting Proverbs 13:22, he said, "Those who are in Christ will be blessed while others struggle." To this he added Jeremiah 29:11 . . . "I have plans to give you a hope and a future."

On Wednesday, Dr. Jackson elevated the campus community to the ultimate level of confidence as he delivered the message, "Stepping into Your Future, Part II". Re-emphasizing the text, Philippians 3: 13 -14, Jackson informed us that we need to know the promises of God and walk with confidence into our future, let go of past mistakes and "Get Your Inheritance," Jackson said. He cautioned that the walk of confidence and prosperity requires a partnership with God as John 15: 5-7 informs, "Abide in me and I will abide in you." Jackson reiterated, "Don't expect the blessings of God without a relationship with God."

On Thursday, Jackson took the campus community closer to a prosperous future as he shared "Stepping into Your Future, Part III." He reminded us that the enemy will show up and introduce self-doubt through relationships but "we must maintain our self-confidence and only engage in holy, happy, and healthy relationships that honor our values of faith, family and education." He also advised emulating good role models. After we secure ourselves in this manner, Jackson said, "Stay close to the ultimate friend, the Lord Jesus Christ, a God who can turn around circumstances."

Dr. Jackson gave the closing message this morning that tied the series together. He shared, "Stepping into your Future with God as your Partner." Jackson elaborated that we can succeed regardless of the hand we've been dealt if God is our partner. "A strong partner equals a good team, a good team equals victory." He went on to say, "Jehovah is the God who is all: provider, deliverer, redeemer, defender, savior, and friend."

President Richardson gave closing remarks and expressed high esteem for his "foster son". It was clear that students were overwhelmingly blessed by Dr. Jackson's message as well as his presence and desire his swift return for Religious Emphasis Week next year.
